

HOW NHL PLAYERS SPEND THEIR MONEY

Establishing savings targets and understanding one's outflows are critical for financial success. Accordingly, GAVIN took a deep dive to find out where exactly NHL players spend their money.

NOTES & CONSIDERATIONS

- GAVIN reviewed the outflows of over 50 NHL players during a three-month period.
- The average NHL player in this sample spends about $40,000 per month.
- 14% of NHL salary was allocated to escrow last season and is not considered an outflow.
- The salaries in the sample are between league minimum ($700,000) and over $10,000,000.
- The average salary in the sample is $3,750,000 and the median salary is $2,850,000.
- The annual agent fee ranges between 2% and 5% of salary and bonus, less escrow.
